

Service Coordination

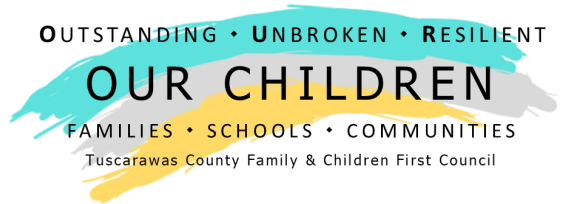

The Service Coordination Program is for families who are involved with multi-systems due to the needs of their children. It is a process to help the family identify and coordinate the services they are currently receiving and services they may not know about to provide support in maintaining the child in his/her home in a safe and healthy environment. It will help families and professionals work together with one coordinated plan.

Service Coordination Program

Who is Service Coordination for?

Youth from birth to 21.

Youth involved in multiple systems across our community, such as the courts, Job and Family Services, Board of Developmental Disabilities, Special School services and/or mental health services.

Youth at risk of a change of placement due to behaviors, significant mental health needs, Job and Family Services involvement and/or court involvement.

How do I get Service Coordination?

Referrals can be initiated by families, schools, counselors, social workers, probation officers, ministers, or other professionals

Contact the Family and Children First Council office to speak with the Service Coordinator.

Office Phone: (330) 343-2286

Email: servicecoordinator@tcfcfc.org

What information is needed?

- The child/youth's name
- The home address and basic contact information
- The child/youth's age
- The concern of the family

What will the family be asked to do?

- Participate in the assessment
- Identify their team members
- Attend Meetings
- Develop a Plan to meet needs identified for your family and youth to maintain the youth in the home and community.

What does Service Coordination look like?

The Service Coordinator meets directly with the child/youth's family in the home or office to complete strength based assessments and identify the primary concerns.

The Service Coordinator pulls together a team of all the service providers and natural supports.

The team creates a plan that aligns the services already being delivered and develops additional supports to meet the specific needs of the child/youth.

The Service Coordinator coordinates meetings with the team and the family to ensure plan implementation.
